

Sprinklr Experience Cloud

THE FIRST INTEGRATE-ABLE, UNIFIED, COLLABORATIVE PLATFORM FOR ORGANIZATIONS TO WORK TO COLLABORATE, IN REAL TIME, ACROSS DEPARTMENTS, MARKETS, AND SILOS TO MANAGE CUSTOMER* EXPERIENCE—AT SCALE

Customers are more informed, connected, and empowered than ever before. With over two billion people connected using their real identities, there are no more strangers.

In this social world, customers no longer consume. They push and pull, with forceful power. And how they choose to apply that force is directly impacted by their experience: the sum of how someone feels across every interaction with your brand.

And social channels are infamously complex and ever changing. To reach, engage and listen to your customers on 25+ channels, you'll need a centralized platform to apply across marketing, advertising, research, care, and commerce.

When you extend the social foundation to integrate with your legacy email, website and CRM systems, you'll unearth new value— the value that can only be achieved through the application of human context to valuable structured data. You can break away from the pains of siloed software and create a unified view of your customer.

Sprinklr's Experience Cloud is an integrated system of engagement for your employees to work together in real time across departments, markets, and silos, to manage customer experience at scale. With flexible and seamlessly integrated building blocks to suit the needs of complex organizations, the Sprinklr Experience Cloud enables users to access complete, connected data across digital channels, including 25+ social platforms, email and apps.

With Sprinklr as the foundation of your brand's digital technology, your teams will deliver better customer experiences - and make happy customers.
